Where Did You Park?

- Parking for this event is authorized ONLY in the Cultural Center Parking Lot. This parking lot is located in front of the Ernest Cultural Center and plainly marked by a green and yellow sign.
- If you're parked on campus in a place other than the Cultural Center parking lot, you may receive a parking ticket.

“You’ve got UNIX under the hood!” exclaimed this young Java programmer when the Pi attended the Digital Edge.

Help Build a Better Pi

The WAP Board of Directors meeting is open to all WAP members.

Usually the second Wednesday of the month at 7:30 PM

Stacks of promotional materials, including a large sheet of paper with a grid of names and a smaller document with a logo, are placed on the white desk surface to the right of the iMac.

WAP Calendar

 All the WAP events and tutorials are listed on the calendar.

 Subscribe to it with iCal!

 View in a web browser!

The screenshot shows the iCal application window. The title bar reads "iCal". On the left, there is a "Calendars" sidebar with a list of calendars: Home, Work, Family, Hokie Football, US Holidays, and WAP Events (checked). Below the sidebar is a navigation pane showing a monthly view for January 2003, with the 22nd highlighted. The main calendar area displays a month view for January 2003, with days of the week (Sun to Sat) as columns. Events are listed in green text on the calendar grid. The bottom of the window has a toolbar with a "+" button, a grid icon, and view selection buttons for "Day", "Week", and "Month" (selected). There are also information, list, and share icons on the right side of the toolbar.

WebTCS

webtcs.wap.org

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the title "TCS Sign In". The address bar contains "http://webtcs.wap.org/". The browser's toolbar includes navigation buttons and a search bar with the text "rocking chair". Below the browser window, the website content is displayed on a yellow background. At the top, there is a banner that says "welcome to the New TCS" with a penguin illustration. Below this, there are two main sections: "tcs sign in" and "want a peek?". The "tcs sign in" section contains two input fields for "Account name:" and "TCS password:", followed by a green "sign in" button. The "want a peek?" section contains text: "(If you're a Pi member without a TCS subscription, click on the Guest Pass for instructions on how to get a tempting sneak preview)". Below these sections is a "more info" section with text: "Enter account name and password in lower case. Be sure to enable cookies." and "For information on TCS services including e-mail and dial-up as well as the bulletin board, see the FAQ." To the right of the "more info" section is a red "Guest Pass" button. At the bottom of the page, there is a copyright notice: "Copyright © 2000-2002 Washington Apple Pi, Ltd".

Pi Filling X CD

- The X CD contains a wealth of Mac OS X applications, utilities, updates, drivers, documentation and how-tos, and even some "diversions" to make life with Mac OS X as wonderful as everyone says it should be, all selected and packaged by our subject matter experts.
- $10 at today's meeting! or $12 via snail-mail.

A large, light blue, stylized logo consisting of the letters 'W' and 'A' intertwined. The 'W' is formed by two overlapping 'V' shapes, and the 'A' is a solid dark blue shape with a white circle inside, resembling an apple core. The text 'Washington Apple Pi' is overlaid on this logo.
